Children's centres to be closed

TWO children's centres in Harlow will close in a move branded "outrageous" by objectors.

Conservative-led Essex County Council said this week's decision to close ABC Children's Centre and Sunflowers Children's Centre along with nine others across the county will save up to £2.5m between 2014 and 2016.

The authority said its research showed some centres were not being used and had not attracted the vulnerable people they were set up to cater for.

But the Child Poverty Action Group charity said the proposals were "bad news".

And Suzy Stride, Harlow's Labour parliamentary candidate, said: "It is outrageous that the Tory administration at Essex County Council has voted to close two of Harlow's valued children centres.

"These centres in Harlow provide vital services to families and play a crucial role in bringing the community together."

Councillors agreed on Tuesday that although ABC Children's Centre in Old Harlow is to close, the site and buildings will be retained to become a 'delivery site'. This means the centre will be open for a set number of hours each week, from five to 35 based on local need.

Sunflower Children's Centre, which is based at the Summers Leisure Centre, will now only be used for outreach services. These are provided based on need and can be adapted to individual families.

The town's three remaining centres will operate as normal.

Ms Stride added: "Soaring childcare costs are a drag on our economy and lock parents

GEMMA GARDNER

who want to get back to work out of the jobs market. Labour in government would be putting families first, investing in children and parents and supporting children centres.

"Labour would introduce a primary childcare guarantee to help parents manage before-and-after school care and extend free childcare provision for three and four year olds with working parents from 15 to 25 hours.

"Harlow is being unfairly hit hardest by the county council cuts. What do Essex Tories really know about Harlow? Chelmsford might as well be a million miles away from Harlow for all they care.

"By voting for these recommendations they have sent a clear message that the Tories are out of touch, and Harlow is not their priority."

Conservative county councillor Eddie Johnson said the authority had listened to concerns raised by people during the public consultation and as a result the proposals had been scaled back.

"For Harlow I think it's come out okay," he said. "Considering what's gone on, I think it's fair. I honestly believe Dick Madden [cabinet member for families and children] has listened to people."

Cllr Johnson said outreach services would still be provided at Sunflowers Children's Centre.

Almost 300 people signed a petition against the closures. One user said: "Without the centres my son wouldn't have any friends his own age to play with."

Rugby club pays tribute to former youth player

A MINUTE'S silence was held at two rugby matches at the weekend for former Harlow Rugby Club youth player Jake Taylor who has died at the age of 17.

The teenager - known as Polish to his teammates - passed away last week after a short illness.

A statement posted on the club's website said: "It is with great sadness, shock and bewilderment that we report the death of former Harlow Youth player Jake Taylor at the age of 17.

"Jake joined the club as a 15 year old and played through the 2011/12 and 2012/13 seasons. A loveable, likeable prop who was always willing to listen and learn, he will be sorely missed.

"We have passed on condolences to Jake's family on behalf of all those at the club."

The club also posted a statement from Jake's mother which said: "He was taken so suddenly, life is so unfair he was just starting out in life."

The silences were held at the mini's match against Barking and Rochford and the under 17/18 colts match.

Girl assaulted by phone thief

POLICE in Harlow are advising people not to walk around with expensive mobile phones in their hand after a young girl told officers that she was punched by a man who stole her handset.

The 13-year-old victim was walking along the cycle path near to Hookfield at around 9pm on Sunday when she was approached by a man in his late twenties wearing a dark jacket, dark trousers and black boots.

He punched her on the arm, causing her to drop her white iPhone 4, which had a crack down the middle of the screen.

He picked it up and then ran off in the direction of Hookfield.

Hundreds at funeral of gym owner Elvis

HUNDREDS of mourners lined the street outside Ripped Gym in Harlow on Tuesday for the funeral of owner Elvis Meade.

Crowds stood silently as the funeral cars drove past the Wych Elm gym, which was closed for the first time in its history.

Mr Meade, who lived in Nazeing, passed away in hospital on Thursday January 2 following a short illness. He was 54.

Scores of tributes flooded in after the Star reported news of Mr Meade's death.

Speaking before Tuesday's service, his wife Michelle, 38, said: "We have been overwhelmed by the support and good wishes given and sent by so many people."

"It is clear the positive impact and influence Elvis had on many lives. As his wife I could not be

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

prouder, I could not have married a better man.

"I would like to say a personal thank you to all the members at the gym who have supported me and the staff through our time of grief and for the way they have each looked after the gym in their own way in the absence of Elvis."

"I would also like to say a massive thank you to Daniel Robinson and Sons, particularly Phil Barrow who has held my hand through this whole process and has gone that extra mile to make my life as easy as possible at such a hard time."

The funeral cortege was followed by more than 30 cars of mourners.

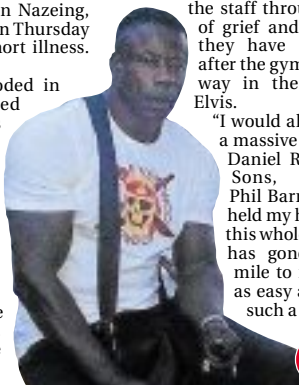

The cortege drove to St John the Baptist Church in Epping for the service during which eulogies were given by family members and friend. Among the readings was Mary E Frye's poem I Did Not Die.

The UK Gospel Choir was also present at the service and performed before it started as well as during the proceedings.

The gym, which is normally open 365 days a year, was closed for the first time on Tuesday from 12.15pm until the following day as a mark of respect.

Ripped Gym will be expanding to Basildon with a new gym set to open in the spring - something Mr Meade had been working towards before his death.

A tribute to him will be created at both the Basildon and Wych Elm gyms.

READERS LETTERS

Why are we still waiting for a zebra crossing outside school?

SIR, I would like to ask the general public to keep a look out for a lost zebra... or rather a lost zebra crossing!

I could appeal directly to members of Harlow Council who assured us that a crossing was going to be installed outside of Milwards Primary School last November, but as the council has come under so much fire in readers' letters, I am giving them a break.

I did wonder if our friends at Church Langley had somehow hijacked our materials and labour, but alas they had waited a long time for justice as well.

It has been four years this spring when the council decided to remove the traffic-calming measures outside of the school. How many more excuses will we have from the them as to why the recent promise and planned date of the installation has yet again been put back. Or maybe the whole project has been cancelled for the second time.

One of the pupils at Milwards was involved in an unfortunate incident only last week when he was hit by a car. Such is the chaos of vehicles and speeding traffic every morning and afternoon I am surprised there have not been more casualties.

I urge the parents who have to cross the road outside of the school to be vigilant. Please encourage your children to cross by the central barriers as this will at least give motorists a chance of seeing you from a distance and know they have to slow down.

Philippa Johnson
Moorfield, Harlow

I'm confused by the different requirements for recycling

SIR, In response to the letters from Les Coben and Michael Yarrow regarding choosing the correct items to put into our recycling bins without being fined, I would like to add that I have long been confused by the differing recycling requirements throughout the different towns within the county.

Surely when pressure is put on manufacturers to make their packaging out of recyclable materials we should all be able to do the correct thing and put it all into the recycling system for the county council to sort to the relevant facilities.

I would guess there is pressure on the council to ensure recycling targets are met, which I am sure could be higher if all possible items could be used.

With reference to the proposed additional M11 junction, I have to say the current proposal seems rather hurried and short-sighted. I should think I am not the first and will not be the last to make these comments.

As much as I can see benefits with relieving some pressure on the current junction 7, the proposal of adding a

"I took it in the grounds of Passmores House on Friday," he writes. "The London Plane is really fine specimen and this a fine example of our wonderful town."

If you have a photo taken in or around the town which you would like to feature in our Photo of the Week section, email a high resolution copy in JPEG format, along with a description of your photo and details of when and where it was taken, to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

Please remember to include your name and address and insert 'Photo of the Week' in the subject line.

whole load of extra traffic via Gilden Way to and from the A414/Mark Hall roundabout is ludicrous. This will do nothing to ease congestion for the A414 through Harlow except for the 1.6 miles along the A414 from the existing Southern Way junction to the Mark Hall/Mandela Avenue roundabout.

Edinburgh Way is a ridiculous route for an A classified road to pass through. With the talk of Harlow North, the growth of Newhall and the Enterprise Zones, this choice of route can only be a short-term solution.

Surely we owe Sir Frederick Gibberd more respect to the town planning than to provide a major route into Harlow without an element of forward planning.

I know it will not suit everybody but I think a properly developed northern bypass would provide the better long-term option for easing unnecessary commuter traffic through the town.

I would also like to be able to have my say on the plans without having to get to one of the consultations.

name and address supplied

Neglected pond area is also in desperate need of a revamp

SIR, I refer to the article regarding the plans to revamp Harlow Town Park. No doubt this will improve facilities but why is the park being given priority over and above other areas in the town that are in dire need of urgent attention.

My main concern is the very sad state of the Oakwood Pond area adjacent to Upper Park. This area has been neglected for many years.

The grass areas down to the pond edge are now overgrown with bramble and several huge trees have fallen, some even into the pond itself.

Due to the continued neglect a lot of work needs to be done now to restore this wood back to the beauty spot it once was. It is good to have 'wild' areas but nature needs a helping hand.

As a result of the rapid growth and spread of the brambles and weeds, some of the paths have now become so narrow. They are almost lost forever.

I hope Harlow Council will rethink their plans for the town park and use some of the £2.8m to improve the Oakwood Pond area.

Christine Moses
address supplied

Discrimination against those who don't want to go online

SIR, I recently applied for several documents relating to policy/information from Harlow Council. I was advised they were only available to people who chose to go online.

This is blatant discrimination against various sections of the community and totally conflicts with the council's recently adopted community engagement strategy - and the 2010 equalities legislation.

I am unaware of any council decision or minute to restrict services to a particular group of residents. In my view the council should ensure that its information and services are available to all residents, electors and council tax payers.

Ron Bill
Upper Park, Harlow

My thanks to all the lovely people who came to my aid

SIR, I thought I would write to let the people of Harlow and the surrounding areas know how wonderful they are.

On the afternoon of Thursday, January 9 I was having trouble getting off the bus with my trolley at Harlow bus station.

I was helped by a young lady with a baby in a pram who was with another young lady and a young man. The way they helped an old man in his late 70s was lovely.

Then, two days later, I was waiting at Prentice Place for a bus to take me to Epping at approximately 8.50am. The bus arrived and I climbed aboard but did not notice that my seat was a tip-up seat. I finished up on the floor.

When I said to the other passengers I could not get up a number of them came to my aid and made me comfortable.

They were all lovely people and I thanked them all for helping me.

I thought your readers should know there are still some wonderful and helpful people about.

Ronnie Williams
Chapel Fields, Harlow

Small businesses are for life, not just for Christmas

SIR, With the economy improving and the High Street filling up, it is safe to say that small businesses are feeling more optimistic about the future than they have done for some time.

This is a factor supported by 'The Voice of Small Business' survey, produced quarterly by the Federation of Small Business, which is the largest small business survey in the country.

However, one good Christmas season doesn't make a recovery and whilst small businesses should of course thank their customers for their custom over the holiday period, let us hope that they have been able to show new customers what a great experience shopping locally is.

This is true not only in terms of great products they sell and the quality of service they offer, but also the resulting benefits that having a thriving town or village centre brings to a community.

Let us hope that 2014 continues to bring people back out into the High Street for the sake of our market towns and villages and our local economies and communities.

Charles Smith, regional chairman

Kids' charity is the winner in shoppers' cash vote

A CHARITY supporting children who have been through a life-limiting or life-long illness or family crisis has started the new year with a hefty donation from supermarket chain Asda.

Kisses4Kids founder Stacey Johnson and trustee Sara Evans were invited to the Harlow store in the Water Gardens to receive a cheque for more than £500 after it won the customers' green token community vote.

Ms Evans said: "We were lucky enough to be part of Asda's fundraising and we're so grateful to their shoppers for taking part. We had pretty stiff competition so we were very pleased to have won."

The charity, which has provided youngsters with birthday parties and trips as well as hosting a Christmas party in Princess Alexandra Hospital's Dolphin Ward, will be hosting a health and wellbeing event next Thursday at Harlow Cricket Club in Old Harlow and a family Valentines disco on Friday, February 14 at The Heart and Clubs in Pypers Hatch.

For tickets or more information, call Ms Evans on 07908 139883.

Council tax increase will pay for services

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

TAXPAYERS will pay more under proposals by Harlow Council to increase its portion of the council tax bill.

The planned 1.49 per cent rise will allow the authority to continue to fund community services including The Playhouse, Harlow Museum and Pets' Corner despite a £1.5m reduction in the funding it receives from central Government.

The council is also pledging to freeze parking charges at neighbourhood shopping areas as well as retaining one-hour free.

Cllr Tony Durcan, portfolio holder for resources and enterprise, said: "We have worked hard looking at every single council budget to save money and see how we can fund services and protect jobs."

The full budget will be recommended to the authority's cabinet next Thursday (January 30) before a final decision is made by the full council a week later.

Funding for the town's paddling pools will be maintained and organisations running Harlow Museum, Parndon Wood Nature Reserve, the Gibberd Gallery and events in the town park will continue to receive financial support under a three-year agreement due to end next year.

Savings have been achieved by transferring more services to the discretionary fund which finances areas the council does not have to provide by law.

The authority has also been exploring shared services as well as reducing supplies and cleaning contracts and deleting vacant posts.

There will be no compulsory redundancies and councillors' allowances will be frozen for the second year.

Special parking permits for carers and healthcare workers will increase by 20 per cent under the plans.

Council leader Mark Wilkinson said: "In proposing this budget the administration is protecting services from closure and any significant reductions while trying where we can to increase efficiency."

"The toughest decision is the proposal to increase council tax, but a

County's first rise in four years

ESSEX County Council is set to increase its share of the council tax bill for the first time in four years under proposals recommended to the authority's cabinet.

The plans, which will need to be agreed by full council next month, propose a 1.49 per cent rise in council tax - equating to an additional 31p a week on a band D property. The authority has frozen the council tax for the last three years.

The council says the increase will bring in an additional £8.8m to spend on vital services - £2.9m more than it would have received if it had accepted the government's freeze grant.

In 2014/15 the council is receiving £30m less from the government than it received in 2013/14 while facing increasing pressure on its budgets due to rising inflation and increasing demand on its services. By 2017 the council needs to save at least £235m to cover the gap in funding - with £107m savings planned to be made in 2014/15.

Under the proposals, the increase would mean an additional £1m to provide more equipment and better facilities for young people, £1.4m for providing care and support to people with physical and learning needs to enable them to live as independently as possible, and an additional £500,000 to support young people looking for jobs through providing an extra 260 apprenticeships through the Essex Apprenticeship Programme.

The extra funding would supplement the investment the council plans to make in other areas including an additional £78m on supporting building and infrastructure projects compared to this year.

An additional £91m will be spent on road and transportation schemes and £52m for education including £24m to provide 2,200 more places in the county's schools.

Leader of Essex County Council, Cllr David Finch, (Conservative) said: "I believe that our proposals will deliver something for every member of our community especially our young and vulnerable people and those wanting to get into work."

"Any decision to increase council tax is not something we do lightly, as we know our hard working families are still facing challenging times. The rise we are recommending is below inflation and amounts to just 31p a week which is less than the cost of a pint of milk, or a second class stamp."

● Essex Police is proposing an increase of 3.5 per cent on their portion of the bill. The move will be debated at the end of the month.

small rise will protect services - the proposed 6.5p a week for the average taxpayer in Harlow. We believe it is the right thing to do rather than close and significantly cutback services.

"Government spending cuts compounded by rising costs, reduced income and rising demand for services means that the council has to budget to save a total of £1.5m in 2014/15."

Cllr Durcan said: "We are very aware that the Government's on-going significant cuts in the funding of the council means that tougher decisions will have to be taken in the coming years.

He added: "We have done well to balance this year's budget but the future outlook is bleak."

Although Harlow Council collects council tax on behalf of Essex County Council, Essex Fire and Rescue and Essex Police, the authority only keeps £17 of every £100 collected.

NOSTALGIA

First World War letter to soldier's dad

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

NOSTALGIA is marking 100 years since the start of the First World War by featuring as many stories, photos and memories from readers who remember or had family members involved in the "war to end all wars".

First up is a regular contributor to this page who has shared a special letter from her great uncle who fought in the conflict.

Marlene Scanlan Brooks, whose great uncle Will Clarke (pictured right in photo) was killed in the war, treasures his last letter, written in pencil, to his father.

Marlene's grandfather also fought in the war but was one of the lucky ones who survived.

In this letter, which is dated September 30 but with no year, her great uncle writes: "Just a few lines in answer to your welcome letter, and I am glad to know you are going on all right as this leaves me."

"I have written to Maud [Mrs Brooks' grandmother] twice and you once some time ago. Flo [Will's wife] told me you had written to her to ask me how I was getting on. Well, I suppose you know that I got buried with a shell last January and I went to a hospital in Boulogne."

"I am getting well worn out now as I have been out here just on 11 months and last winter was enough to do you in. You know the old saying, "stick it Jerry".

He added: "I expect I shall have another Christmas out here and I have not seen anything of Dick [Mrs Brooks' grandfather and Maud's husband], as I am in a different part of the line. You say how much longer am I going to be out here before I get a short leave. God only knows."

"Pop up and have a look at the youngster of course I have only seen a photo of him. I am beginning to feel a bit old now. Three of them and Flo tells me that the boy is getting to be a lad, but roll on when this lot is over and I can see them again.

"You don't know what to make of it sometimes as now and again it is like all hell is let loose and the guns are kicking up a fine dust while I am writing this letter, but they are getting all they want this last couple of days."

"Well remember me to all, I think this is all this time."

● Do you have photos or letters from relatives who fought in the First World War that you would like to share? If so, get in touch by post to 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW, email star@hertsessexnews.co.uk or call (01279) 400577.

Who's the bonny baby in the pram?

This beautiful baby was photographed in a classic pram from the 1950s just in front of The High sign.

The photo, which was taken in 1953, was posted by a member of the 'Photos of Harlow - Old and New' Facebook group and the hunt is now on to find out the identity of the tot.

Harlow New Town was dubbed 'Pram Town' in the early 1950s because of the influx of young families.

Marlene Scanlan Brooks, who is one of the group's administrators and who is also on the committee of the Friends of Harlow Museum, is hoping Nostalgia's army of readers will be able to solve the mystery of the 1950s baby.

If you know the answer, email star@hertsessexnews.co.uk or call (01279) 400577.

No time to lose as entries open for Race for Life

REGISTRATION for this year's Race for Life in Harlow opened this week.

Event organisers have set a target of signing up more than 2,000 women to take part in the fundraiser for Cancer Research UK.

It will take place in Harlow Town Park on Sunday, May 18 and participants can choose either a 5k or 10k course.

Gill Burgess, Cancer Research UK's events manager for Essex, said: "We're calling on Harlow's mighty-mums, gutsy-grans, feisty friends and go-getting girls to join our formidable army and take on cancer at this year's Race for Life."

"We know how committed Harlow women can be when they really make up their minds to do something. We want to harness that power to stop cancer in its tracks, by raising money for life-saving research."

Last year's 2069 women took part in the Harlow Race for Life raising £135,926. This year the organisers are hoping to raise £138,000.

The money is used by the charity to fund advanced research which is already helping to save the lives of men, women and children across the east of England.

Gill added: "Race for Life is an amazing way to celebrate life but also remember those who have been lost to the disease. There are over 200 cancers and we won't give up until we find cures for them all."

To enter Race for Life visit the website at www.raceforlife.org or call 0845 600 6050.

Tragedy motivates grieving young mum to help others

A YOUNG mother has started the process of setting up a charity in memory of her baby daughter who died at the age of 20 weeks after she was born prematurely.

Maisie Taylor, of Longbanks, Harlow, started The Darcie-Mai Project to raise money and awareness for sick and premature babies.

The 19-year-old gave birth to Darcie on April 27 last year. She was eight weeks early and weighed just 3lb 6oz when she was born.

"My partner and I thought we would have a normal pregnancy," said Maisie, "but my waters broke at 32 weeks and 10 hours later Darcie was here."

"She was fighting for her life as soon as she was born. The medical staff at Princess Alexandra Hospital were fantastic but Darcie was transferred to Addenbrooke's Hospital purely because it was better equipped to deal with babies like her."

The tragic tot spent five weeks in the neonatal intensive care unit and a further three weeks in high dependency at the Cambridge hospital before she was moved back to PAH.

While she was at Addenbrooke's her family were able to stay in Chestnut House run by The Sick Children's Trust.

Maisie added: "Chestnut House has eight rooms for parents and there are 56 cots so they only take the parents of the sickest babies. We wanted to cherish every second with Darcie because we did not know what would happen."

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

When Darcie was transferred back to PAH, Maisie and partner Josh Cornell, 23, were able to hold their daughter for the first time.

"It was the first time we were able to stay with her without doctors and nurses which was really scary but really exciting because you get to feel like a parent," said Maisie. "She came home and she was fine."

Sadly, Darcie was home for just nine weeks before she died from congenital bronchiectasis. Maisie said: "She was just like me, she hated mornings and did not like being dressed. She was a real character."

"I wanted to do something to raise money for Chestnut House and the two hospitals because if it was not for them she would not have survived as long as she did."

"When Darcie passed away it motivated me even more. I've always wanted to do something like this."

She added: "I am quite a positive person and I did not want to be one of those people that crawls into a hole to be sad. I need to be helping people so I can be grieving. It's just my way of grieving to try and hopefully help others."

"It was a really scary time sometimes but when you are in that moment, time is precious."

Maisie said her parents and partner had been "so supportive", helping with ideas and the overall running of The Darcie-Mai Project as they begin the process to register it as an official charity. It has already made an impact online with donations and heartfelt messages of support pouring in.

"The support has been amazing. I didn't expect it," said Maisie. "It's been great and if that means we can do more for premature and sick babies then that's just what I want."

'Cycle' fundraiser to send family on trip to Disneyland

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A HARLOW couple have organised a static cycle fundraiser to send a family hit by cancer to Disneyland Paris.

Graham and Kaye Fryer, pictured right, of Finchmoor, decided to raise money for the trip to France after friend Paul Gilyatt was diagnosed with the disease back in 2011.

He received treatment but the cancer has since returned.

Mr Gilyatt and his partner Tammy have five children - Enya, 18, Harry, 17, Maria, 15, Madison, 13 and Desrae, 12.

Mr and Mrs Fryer will be holding the static cycle challenge tomorrow (Friday) at Paringdon Sports Centre where fundraisers will be cycling around 300 miles - the distance from Harlow to the French resort. They have also organised a fundraising disco.

The Fryers have already raised more than £6,000 and are hoping to add more to that total make sure no expense is spared for the family.

"Paul is an incredibly strong person surrounded by a beautiful family who have had to live under a dark cloud for a long time," said Kaye, 45. "When Graham and I learned the cancer was back we decided to do something positive, hence the decision to raise money to send the family to Disneyland Paris."

"We have received a lot of praise for what we have achieved but we simply offered a platform for everyone to show they care."

She added: "Graham did a charity bike ride from Paris to Geneva last year for another charity and the support was brilliant, so it just followed that we thought a bike ride from Harlow to Paris would be a great theme to help raise money. The support and generosity from everyone has simply been amazing."

Graham, 50, added: "The children are really excited to be going as they've never been. The family have been through a lot and it's been a very difficult, very emotional time and we wanted to give them something good to look forward to."

To help send the Gilyatt family to Disneyland Paris visit, <http://fnd>.

Paula's ready to come a cropper

A MEMBER of staff at Harlow College will be shaving off her hair in memory of her mother and in support of a colleague who is receiving treatment for a brain tumour.

Paula Lee, 36, of Potter Street, has decided to cut off her locks and donate them to the Little Princess Trust, which uses them to make wigs for children who have lost their own hair while receiving treatment for cancer.

"One of our colleagues has been diagnosed with a brain tumour which is cancerous and my mum passed away with the same thing 16 years ago," said Paula said.

"I thought a head shave would be a good way of showing my support and raising money for the King George & Queen's Hospitals charity. Hopefully I can raise £1,000."

Paula's head shave will take place in the Harvey Centre next Wednesday, the same week of her mother's birthday. To sponsor her, visit www.justgiving.com/paula-lee.

Charity shop in a plea for donations

THE British Heart Foundation is urging Harlow residents to help it restock its shop in the town centre.

The shop in East Walk is looking for electrical items, furniture and any other large items to sell and raise funds for the charity's research work.

Shop manager Sharon Woodphorpe said: "We are getting really low on stock and need to generate some more. As long as an item is in reasonable condition then we will accept it."

"Any electrical items need to be in working order but any donations are much appreciated and go towards raising money for an amazing cause."

"We also offer a free collection on large items so it's really easy for residents to donate."

To find out more call (01279) 412469.

Nathania's gift to hospital baby unit

A YOUNGSTER has raised £150 for Princess Alexandra Hospital's neonatal intensive care unit after she spent three days when she was born in the unit after she was born.

Nathania Delali-Yevunya, 7, asked friends and family to donate money to the hospital rather than give her birthday and Christmas presents.

"I got presents too in the end but I liked fundraising," said

Nathania, who presented a cheque to PAH last week.

The St James Primary School pupil spent three days in the unit after she was born with the umbilical cord wrapped around her neck.

Nathania's father Albert, a reverend at House of Mercy Baptist Church in Katherines, said: "I am very proud, the whole family is. Nathania asked people she knew, family and friends for donations to the hospital rather than gifts.

"She wants to raise £1,000 so £150 is really good as she only started fundraising in November. This year she wants to reach her target so she will be trying to raise £1,000 by the end of 2014."

To sponsor Nathania, email Nathania's father at dellalbert@yahoo.com.

MP vows to keep on losing weight

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon has vowed to continue with his sponsored diet to raise cash for Harlow Community Chest until he reaches his target weight.

Mr Halfon started his fundraising weight-loss challenge in July and has since dropped from 14st 12lbs to 13st 2lbs. "I'm going to carry on until I reach my target weight of 12st 7lbs," he said.

Mr Halfon's efforts have so far raised £1,760 for Harlow Community Chest and he has set himself a target of £2,000.

To support Mr Halfon's sponsored diet visit www.everyclick.com/robhalfonsponsorediet.

St Clare Hospice lottery winners

THE winner of the £1,000 first prize in the St Clare Hospice lottery drawn on Friday, January 17 was ticket holder 76199, who lives in Sawbridgeworth.

The £100 second prize was won by ticketholder 515696, who lives in Harlow.

Grants for cancer patients

CANCER patients in Essex received almost £240,000 in grants from a support charity to help with heating and transport last year, new figures have revealed.

More than 800 cancer patients in Essex were given a grant by Macmillan Cancer Support to help them with costs relating to their cancer treatment including clothing, bills for heating and practical items such as beds.

The grants are given to those who have limited financial resources and are in need of immediate assistance. Stair lifts, showers, washing machines and short breaks are also paid for under the grants scheme if necessary.

"Our latest grants figures are evidence of the financial isolation that can seriously impact people living with cancer," said Dr Fran Woodard, Macmillan Cancer Support's director for England.

"To feel unable to buy the clothes you need to keep warm, for example, is an unacceptable reality."

£2.8m makeover plan for town park agreed

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

MULTI-million pound plans to redevelop Harlow Town Park have been unanimously approved by the council.

The £2.8m proposals which include repair, conservation and improvement works within the park were described by one councillor sitting on Harlow Council's development committee as "a long time coming".

Councillor Mike Garnett said: "It has been a long time coming and it is great that we have the funding and it's going to go ahead. I think it is brilliant."

The application, submitted by Allen Scott Ltd on behalf of the council, aims to restore and enhance the original character and features of the park.

Work includes constructing a new events barn at Pets Corner and a new education centre where the aviary and hand wash area are currently located.

Elsewhere, the existing single storey cafe and toilet block at Spurrier House will be removed with the ground floor of the building converted into a cafe.

New seating and information boards will also be introduced throughout the park and the existing bandstand is to be restored and refurbished.

Cllr Maggie Hulcoop added: "It is a great improvement, the town park is looking tired and it needs regeneration. I think what we are getting now [with these plans] is going to be a great improvement."

Cllr Tony Hall added: "It has been a long and hard journey. I think it will be an excellent enhancement for the town and I just hope we can keep it in its new condition once everything has been done."

The project will be funded with lottery grants and Harlow Council reserves from past savings.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Carer stole from her patient

A CARER from Harlow has admitted stealing more than £1,500 from a 77-year-old dementia sufferer she was looking after.

Jennifer Edgell, 46, of Copshall Close, pleaded guilty at Chelmsford Crown Court on Friday to stealing £1,700 from the female victim between October 25, 2011 and April 29, 2012.

Adjourning for sentence until February 3, Judge David Turner told Edgell: "It's a very serious position, a significant theft. All options are in play."

Pillow case stolen in burglary

DETECTIVES are appealing for information after a burglary in Churchfield, Harlow on Wednesday, January 15.

The burglary took place between 8am and 6.45pm. A brown Diesel watch and a pink and blue pillow case were stolen. It is thought somebody got into the property through the kitchen window at the back of the house.

Anybody with any information or anyone who may have seen suspicious activity in the area is asked to contact DC Gav Morris at Harlow CID on 101.

Hospital opens winter ward

PRINCESS Alexandra Hospital's new 20-bed winter ward officially opened on Monday.

Costing £2.8m, the new ward will serve as a short stay assessment unit attached to the A & E department.

The ward will relieve pressure which builds up on the hospital which operates at 95 per cent capacity and often above that during the winter.

With construction work complete, some extra parking places will come back into use.

WIN Easy-to-use home blood pressure monitor

WITH one in three adults now having high blood pressure (also known as hypertension), maintaining a healthy lifestyle is important for everyone as it limits the chances of developing heart disease, stroke, and other serious conditions.

Eating plenty of fruit and vegetables, limiting salt intake, stopping smoking and exercising regularly are all factors in keeping a normal blood pressure.

Monitoring your health regularly and accurately can be difficult, but help is at hand. The OMRON M6 Comfort is an advanced upper arm blood pressure home monitor which means you will no longer have to make lots of trips to your GP – you can take your own blood pressure reading in the comfort of your own home!

This week we are giving you the chance to win one of five OMRON M6 Comfort Premium Blood Pressure Monitors (£102.25rrp). And since it comes with a wide range cuff of 22-42cm it will cover the whole family.

- Comfort and accuracy are key features of the M6 Comfort fully automatic upper arm monitor. Features include:

- Intellisense™ Technology ensures that cuff inflates to just the right level

- Cuff wrapping guide indicates if cuff is wrapped correctly

- Dual check system ensures that the sensor performing the reading is checked to ensure greater accuracy

- Average three readings – average of 3 consecutive readings in 10 minutes

These features combined mean you can relax in the knowledge that your blood pressure reading is accurate every time. To find out more visit www.omron-healthcare.co.uk.

All you have to do to enter this competition to win an OMRON M6 Comfort Premium Blood Pressure Monitor is answer this simple question:

What is another name for high blood pressure?

You can email your answer to competitions@hertsessexnews.co.uk making sure you put 'Star Omron' in the subject line. Alternatively, enter online at www.harlowstar.co.uk/Whats-On-Leisure and follow the entry instructions. The closing date for entries is Wednesday, January 29.

If you are not lucky enough to win, you can buy an OMRON M6 Comfort Premium Blood Pressure Monitor online at www.boots.com/en/Omron-M6-Comfort-with-dual-sized-cuff_1125217/ or in store at Boots in Broad Walk, Harlow.

Space probe wakes from two-year snooze

A SPACE probe that was launched from Earth 10 years ago on a mission to land on a comet has started sending back signals.

The probe, named Rosetta, set off in 2004 but for the past two years it has been in hibernation to save power.

This is because the craft is so far away from the Sun that its solar panels, which convert the Sun's rays into power, could not have kept it running.

Later this year, in a manoeuvre described by scientists as like a fly trying to land on a speeding bullet, it will attempt to land on the 2.5 mile-wide frozen body of the comet.

If successful, scientists will be able to study the comet's dust and gas to gain a better understanding about the evolution of the Solar System.

It is expected to land on the comet in August, when it will become the first spacecraft to orbit a comet and land a probe on its surface.

Alcoholic knifeman loses appeal against eight-year jail term

AN alcoholic who almost killed a man when he stabbed him in the chest has lost his appeal against his eight-year jail term.

Shane Radford, 38, of Lawrence Moorings, Sawbridge-worth, challenged the sentence – which included an extra three years on extended licence – at the Criminal Appeal Court in London.

However, judges said the 50-year-old victim could have died and Radford could have been charged with murder but for “a matter of inches”.

The court was told Radford had flown into a rage and stabbed the victim, piercing his victim's lungs and liver, on April 14 last year.

Police had been called to a domestic disturbance involving Radford in Hertford on the day of the incident. Later, Radford went to the victim's home and accused him of calling the police before stabbing him with a kitchen knife.

At St Albans Crown Court last August he admitted wounding with intent but challenged the sentence. His lawyers argued his outburst was linked to a relapse into alcoholism and said he wanted to stop drinking.

In dismissing the appeal, Sir Colin Mackay said the trial judge was entitled to impose the sentence, adding: “This is a case which might have been a murder case were it not for a matter of inches.”

The court was told Radford had three previous convictions for violence but had not been involved in violent offending since he was 20.

He had been released from prison in 2011 and was in a residential rehabilitation centre but decided to seek support from Alcoholics Anonymous. But after he left the centre early he did not get help and lapsed back into drinking

Care at home service launched by hospice

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

TERMINALLY ill patients who want to die at home will now be able to receive end-of-life care from specialist palliative care nurses from St Clare Hospice

The Hospice at Home service, which was launched on Monday, is the first of its kind in west Essex.

It has been funded with a grant from the West Essex Clinical Commissioning Group, the organisation that plans and buys health care services in Harlow, Epping Forest and Uttlesford.

With a growing demand for the services provided by St Clare from its base at Hastingswood, the new service will offer hands-on support to patients in their own homes during their final weeks or at times of crisis.

Director of patient care Louise Cameron said: “We know that many people would prefer to be cared for at home during the last few weeks of their lives, but in the past that has not always been possible due to a lack of resources.”

“Hospice at Home aims to fill that gap by supporting people to stay at home if they wish. It is set to make a huge difference to our patients and their families by helping avoid unnecessary hospital admissions and out-of-hour crisis calls, enabling them to spend their last days at home even when their symptoms are difficult to manage.”

The service will operate from 8am to 8pm seven days a week including bank

holidays and is available to anyone aged over 18 with a life-limiting condition and who is registered with a GP in west Essex.

Palliative care nurses will assess and initiate treatment, provide specialist advice and support to patients and their families or carers and give guidance to GPs and district nurses. In addition, specially trained health care assistants will visit patients to provide hands-on care tailored to their individual needs.

The number of home visits will vary from patient to patient depending on the level of support required but they will receive at least one daily visit and up to three times if necessary.

Hospice chief executive Tanya Curry said: “We are committed to providing excellent specialist palliative care to local people and the expansion of our community service is something we have wanted to do for many years, so we are delighted to be launching it this week.”

“We know Hospice at Home is going to make a really positive difference to the lives of those we care for, ensuring more people can access the best care possible which meets their needs and ultimately supports individual choice.”

The hospice is also launching St Clare Community Friends, a volunteer-led befriending service to offer support, friendship and practical help.

From drawing board to open ward in nine weeks

THE new winter ward at Princess Alexandra Hospital opened on Monday just nine weeks after the plans left the drawing board and the Government gave the go-ahead for the extra investment.

It's an amazing achievement when you think that opening a ward does not just involve getting a building up but making sure it is scrupulously clean, has all the right equipment, the correct numbers of consultants, doctors and nurses and all the necessary back-up like porters, security and medicine.

The short stay assessment unit – to give its correct title – will take patients for between 24 and 48 hours for tests and diagnosis before a consultant makes a decision to either admit the patient to hospital or discharge them.

The ward is badly needed as PAH runs at 95 per cent capacity almost as a norm and often higher during the winter months.

The new ward was actually fully ready on Sunday evening and by 8am Monday had eight patients.

The ward had to be built close to the A&E department and that meant using part of the busy main visitor car park. Some 60 staff were moved off the site to town centre car parks to keep patient parking places at the same number. Some extra places will come back into use as the construction site clears.

The hospital is extremely grateful to patients, visitors and staff for their understanding and patience while the builders were in. Everyone realised the end result was better patient care.

Temple trip is fun for nursery tots

BLOSSOMS NURSERY Children and staff visited a Sikh and Hindu temple to learn more about religion and cultures.

The youngsters visited the temple in Ilford as part of their curriculum to learn about different beliefs across the world.

Bobbi Chana, manager of the nursery at Thornwood Common, said: "The trip helped our children to understand and develop awareness of different cultures, language, religion and beliefs.

"They learnt how to value culture, religion of community events and experiences.

She added: "We had so much fun. We enjoyed covering our heads with a head scarf, tasting Indian food and learning about Hinduism and Sikhism.

"This has helped our children understand and develop their knowledge and understanding of the world around them."

Pupils taken on a tour of Parliament

FAWBERT & BARNARDS PRIMARY Pupils travelled to London when they were invited by Harlow MP Robert Halfon to visit the House of Commons.

Members of the school council at the London Road school were given a tour of Parliament by Mr Halfon.

Fawbert & Barnard's school bursar Christine Baxter said: "We had a really nice time and the school council really enjoyed it.

"When we arrived we visited Robert Halfon's office which was very interesting and then had a whole tour of the building. Everyone asked lots of questions and we learnt a lot about Parliament and its history.

"We have been doing this trip for about three years, each time with a new school council and it's always very enjoyable."

Students' multi-cultural event an 'inspirational' celebration

ST MARK'S SCHOOL

Students and staff celebrated their cultural heritages with the school's annual multi-cultural event.

The show, at the Tripton Road school, was hosted by sixth formers Modupe Adulaja and Glory Abiodun and included dances from Irish, African and Asian traditions.

The event featured songs in Polish, English, and French as well as a piece adapted with a Swahili chorus and American swing. School chaplain, Imelda Gunn, said:

"One of the many highlights had to be the fashion show organised by Debbie Ogunseye and Beatrice Ediae in Year 13 celebrating style, colour and design from a variety of cultures featuring staff as models as well as students which went down well with the audience.

"It was a wonderful, inspirational evening and left everyone who attended feeling uplifted."

The proceeds of the evening were donated to the Philippine Typhoon Haiyan Appeal.

Youngsters raise funds for St Clare

KINGSMOOR ACADEMY Pupils were set a challenge to double their money after being given cash by the Ployters Road school's parent-teacher association.

Each class was given £20 towards organising enterprising events to try to raise as much money as possible which would then be donated to St Clare Hospice.

Over a period of two weeks the children organised biscuit and cake sales, a raffle, a photograph sale, a film night, a 'I'm A Pupil, Get Me Out of Here' bushtucker trial, Year 6 Has Talent show, a sponsored silence and an arts and crafts afternoon.

Students managed to raise £861 from their fundraising events.

James Barber of the Hastingwood-based hospice said: "This was fantastic and the students did really well. I never expected for so much money to be raised."

Your stars with Patrick Arundell to guide you through the week ahead

Aries 21 March - 20 April
 What a week this can be, Aries! If a positive goal is in sight, all you need do is take the right kind of action. Inspiration is available, but if you doubt yourself, you could miss it. Yet, as Venus forges ahead and Jupiter challenges Pluto, this may be the push you've been waiting for. Just allow your intuitive responses to guide your path ahead. Call for more news and advice...

Libra 24 Sept - 23 Oct
 Although this week may seem to be about other people's needs and desires, a Jupiter Pluto connection may help you gather your resolve. If you need the extra push to get ahead with a goal or plan, this could be it. Venus will also march ahead, so you might get support from an unlikely quarter, which could prove most welcome. Call me now for more news and astral advice...

Taurus 21 April - 21 May
 This exciting week may require you to explore feelings and opportunities you've been denying yourself. Allow impulses from your deeper self to come through to the surface, and ignite your desire for greater satisfaction. Venus pushes ahead too, which may calm waves of emotional tension, bringing greater peace in its wake. Call me now for more news and astral advice...

Scorpio 24 Oct - 22 Nov
 Your social and love life could go through a shift. A rosy glow spotlights fresh options, as Venus turns direct and Mercury dances into Pisces. This upbeat energy may encourage you to see a relationship from a different and more creative perspective. What appeared almost impossible regarding a special person, might seem less out of reach. Call for your love scope in full...

Gemini 22 May - 21 June
 A heads up for you Gemini, as Mercury enters Pisces, and encourages visions of what could be. In this instance, a little daydreaming could be the catalyst that helps you claim the success you sense can be yours - no matter how big your goal. A Jupiter Pluto link might also entice you to learn more about available resources and use them creatively. Call for your in-depth forecast...

Sagittarius 23 Nov - 21 Dec
 You could be impacted by this week's challenging Jupiter Pluto link, in a way that surprises you. It could also intensify your hunger for something more to happen in your life. Perhaps you'll feel it's worth moving out of your comfort zone and having a real go. However, easy does it, and do take time to create a plan, rather than lose out through hazy ideas. Call for more astral advice...

Cancer 22 June - 23 July
 This week's New Moon in Aquarius, could plant a seed of restlessness that has a positive outcome. If you've felt limited by certain people or current circumstances, you could be goaded into action. Inspiration in the form of a brilliant idea, may help you cut through mental blocks, empowering you to make greater progress. Call me now for more news and astral advice...

Capricorn 22 Dec - 20 Jan
 Could fresh possibilities show up enabling you to part resolve a family matter? A promising plan may form in your mind, and if you use the New Moon as a catalyst, you might see results sooner rather than later. However, it's important to converse with a key person about your decision. In this case, two heads may be better than one. Call your prediction line for more astral advice...

Leo 24 July - 23 August
 An idea shared could be a call to collaborate on a plan or project, whether the person involved is your sweetheart, a friend or co-worker. There's plenty to excite you this week, and with the New Moon as a catalyst, you could find that matters begin to develop rapidly. Yet, try not to take on too much - a little done well could be your path to success. Call for your in-depth forecast...

Aquarius 21 Jan - 19 Feb
 As Venus marches forward, doubts may disperse concerning an idea or relationship. Perhaps you'll see a way forward where previously there was none. You might also want to harness the New Moon as a way to propel yourself into action. Plus, the support of loved ones may help keep your enthusiasm bubbling away, motivating you to have a go. Call me for more news...

Pisces 20 Feb - 20 March
 Mercury in your sign, might connect you to your intuition and those subtle ideas that have the power to positively impact key areas of your life. One of these could involve a friendship or a relationship which may need a nudge in a positive direction. Lunar links and Venus's forward motion, could help bring about a happy reconciliation. Call now for your love scope in full...

Virgo 24 Aug - 23 Sept
 Perhaps you'll feel motivated to commit to healthier habits this week, inspired by the power of the Aquarius New Moon. The stamina to keep going, despite any obstacles, may be more easily within your grasp. As Mercury glides into Pisces, inspiration might come through other people. But in love, someone can seem elusive. Call your prediction line for more news and advice...

Magician Pete has night of comedy up his sleeve

FROM performing magic tricks to his family at the age of eight to entertaining the nation on prime time television, Pete Firman has conjured himself up a reputation as "the new poster-boy for British comedy magic".

Star of BBC One's The Magicians, the lovable 33-year-old from Middlesbrough has become one of the most in demand magicians working on British television as well as a regular face at the Edinburgh Festival.

And fans can witness his hilarious and mind-boggling skills as part of a fantastic line-up at next month's Live at The Playhouse comedy night in Harlow.

Pete's journey into magic began in "textbook" fashion.

He explained: "If you ask most magicians how they started they would have got a magic set or a magic book when they were little... I got given a Fisher Price set when I was about eight. I used to do little shows at school and show tricks to my family at Christmas and then it became a part-time job and eventually a full-time job."

While studying for a theatre degree at university, Pete used his magical skills to secure part-time work entertaining diners at a restaurant.

"I wanted to be an actor and the magic stuff was a part-time job to get me through uni," he said.

But his plans soon changed after he saw an advert seeking magicians for new television show Monkey Magic. Pete sent

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

in "a VHS" and promptly got the gig.

"I had just graduated from university and moved to London at the age of 21 to do the show," he said. "It was totally scary but it was one of those things where, because I was young, I had nothing to lose."

He continued: "When I moved to London I wanted more regular work. I recognised that there were comedy clubs everywhere so I got up on stage and did a few tricks. It went down alright but I realised that gentle humour was not going to cut it, as people weren't there to see a magic show. So, I started to make them funny, write jokes and really started to enjoy it. "It was all a bit unusual...I started in television and then did my live act which is a little back to front as it normally works the other way around."

"But it's all happened quite nicely; I'm not saying I haven't had to work at it but it has happened naturally. I'm very grateful that it has gone this way."

Over the years, Pete has appeared on Channel 4's Dirty Tricks and The Secret World of Magic as well as The Magicians, which was the first live magic programme to be broadcast on the BBC in over 30 years.

"Live TV is a bit risky with magic," said Pete, who lists legendary American duo Penn and Teller as his favourite magicians. "It's not like Strictly Come Dancing or Dancing On Ice where if you cock up a dance move you just laugh it off. If you do a magic trick and cock it up it stings a bit more! That made it nerve-wracking, not to mention the fact that there were six million people watching at home!"

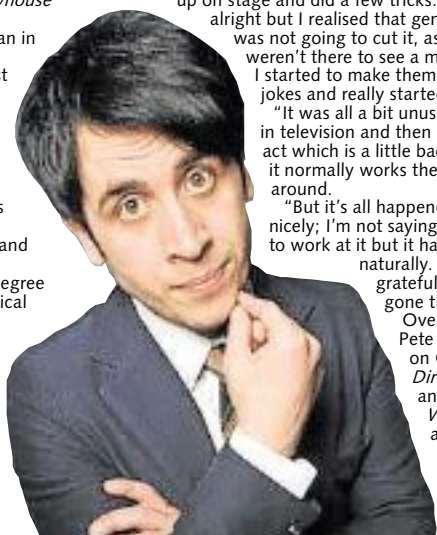

With the emergence of names like Dynamo, it seems as though magic has enjoyed a welcome resurgence in recent years. The parameters are constantly changing and the bar is being set ever higher, but it's a challenge that Pete relishes.

"Magic has never really gone away, it's a surviving form of entertainment," he said. "The way it sustains and reinvents is marvellous. It changes and adapts to the audience of the time."

"It's not so much about coming up with something new, although that's always great, but with such a rich history there's only so much you can do. You can make something appear, make something disappear, make something float in thin air; the idea is to dress it up and make it entertaining and fun."

When asked about his favourite trick, Pete continued: "I have so many favourites but there's two things I love doing. One is where I get people on stage, as you never know what to expect and it's different every time which keeps me on my toes. I also love anything that bamboozles an audience; it's a great feeling to make them laugh but also to see puzzled looks on their faces!"

>>> Pete Firman will be at Harlow Playhouse on Saturday, February 8. Tickets are £16 the box office on (01279) 431945 from layhouseharlow.com.

Psychological thriller at Moot Hall

SUSPICION of child abuse and the authorities' response is the topical subject at the heart of Moot House Players' latest production.

The Devil at Midnight is a gripping and intriguing psychological thriller by celebrated British writer Brian Clemen, the man responsible for many popular television productions both here and in the USA, including The Professionals, The Avengers and Diagnosis: Murder.

The play's action begins when psychoanalyst Liz Burns (played by Bridget McAlpine) is visited by distressed young patient Nicki White (Kerry Rowland) who is being disturbed by nightly dreams of devils and abduction.

Through analysis, Liz uncovers the childhood roots of Nicki's troubles and the impact they have had on her and her younger brother Billy (Matt Hunt).

She is shocked to discover that her own husband, former social worker Jack (Mike Rees), was involved in the White siblings' early trauma.

But Nicki's appearance in the Burns' lives is not all it seems, resulting in shock and terror for the couple.

>>> Directed by Dan Powell, The Devil at Midnight is being staged at Moot Hall, The Stow, Harlow, on Thursday January 30, Friday January 31 and Saturday February 1 at 8pm. Tickets priced at £8 (£6 concessions) are available from the box office on (01279) 639170.

Jazz star kicks off new season

MARIGOLDS Jazz Club kicks off its 2014 programme on with a swinging quintet led by maestro musician Ted Beament.

The band features Ted – who also plays for the Humphrey Lyttleton band – on keyboards, Colin Watling on saxophone, Nick Page on guitar, Murray Salmon on bass and Les Kinkel on drums. They will perform on Friday, January 31.

The jazz club, now in its 11th year, meets on the last Friday of the month. It also holds blues gigs in the middle of the month.

The gigs are all held at Harlow Cricket Club at the bottom of Chippingfield in Old Harlow.

Tickets cost £8 and can either be bought at the door or reserved by calling (01279) 414174 or (01279) 421763. Doors and Licensed Bar open 7.30pm.

For more information about the jazz club and for upcoming gigs visit www.musicatmarigolds.co.uk or email the club at musicatmarigolds@ntlworld.com.

ART The Counterpoint exhibition by Stella Hunt shows different subject matters using various materials as well as textures. Each piece of work is about a journey. Stella Hunt states that she never wants to know what the finished painting will be like until she gets there - for her this is a challenge. The exhibition will be on display until February 16. The gallery is open Tuesday to Friday between 10am and 5pm and 2pm to 4pm on Sundays.

GIBBERD GALLERY
Civic Centre, Harlow
(07530) 048739

ART Harlow is the third architectural context surveyed by artist James Smith as part of London Overspill, a touring exhibition of his photographic work organised by the University of Hertfordshire Galleries. Having already taken in the hybrid cityscapes of Luton and Hatfield, London Overspill examines how the built environment has mutated as new layers of meaning and utility have been added and as it has been adapted by municipal decree and those living and using it. Harlow Estate - London Overspill will be at the town centre gallery until January 31. The gallery is open Monday to Friday between 9am and 4.45pm.

EASTGATE GALLERY
East Gate, Harlow

ART The Eastgate Gallery window is playing host to the exciting and colourful work of artist Raphael Sagage. Raphael is a painter born in Port-au-Prince, Haiti. His source of inspiration has always been the subject of everyday life and the natural world that surrounds him, fascinated by colours, patterns, shapes and textures. His work will be on display in the gallery until February 4.

Jack's back in spy thriller

JACK RYAN: SHADOW RECRUIT
certificate 12A, 1h45m

DEDICATED to the memory of Tom Clancy who died in October, Jack Ryan: Shadow Recruit is an old-fashioned espionage thriller which revives the writer's most popular fictional character.

Unlike its predecessors (The Hunt For Red October, Patriot Games, Clear And Present Danger or The Sum Of All Fears), Kenneth Branagh's film is not adapted from a specific book in the series. Instead, scriptwriters Adam Cozad and David Koepp transplant the eponymous CIA operative into a modern-day terrorist scenario to lay the foundations for a new big screen franchise.

The film opens with footage of the September 11 attacks and then jumps forwards two years to the conflict in Afghanistan where enemy forces shoot down a US Marine Corps helicopter. On board is Second Lieutenant Jack Ryan (Chris Pine), who incurs massive damage to his spine.

Thanks to encouragement from medical student Cathy Muller (Keira Knightley), Ryan learns to walk again and fatherly CIA agent William Harper (Kevin Costner) encourages him to return to university to complete his economics degree.

A decade later Ryan is married to Cathy and firmly in the CIA fold, looking for irregularities in overseas finance transactions that could tip the wink to future terrorist activity. Recent findings suggest an imminent strike that could cripple the US economy but he has no way to verify his data from the confines of a desk.

So Handler promotes Ryan to field agent and dispatches him to Moscow to follow up on his hunch. While in Russia he meets an enigmatic businessman called Viktor Cherevin (Kenneth Branagh), who seems to be at the centre of the diabolical plot.

The mission is complicated by the presence in Moscow of Ryan's disgruntled wife, who doesn't know her husband works for the CIA.

Jack Ryan: Shadow Recruit is solid, undemanding popcorn entertainment that doesn't deviate from a well-worn path. It's solid, bombastic entertainment, punctuated by outrageous, briskly edited action sequences that owe a sizeable debt to The Bourne Identity and its influential sequels.

Pine is a likeable leading man but on-screen chemistry with Knightley is lukewarm at best. Branagh downplays his villain when some Alan Rickman-style wild overacting might have injected some welcome levity into the deadly serious proceedings.

Cozad and Koepp meld present and past, harking back to the Cold War to generate friction between global superpowers America and Russia, then playing out a deadly game of cat and mouse using state-of-the-art technology.

The central plot, to de-stabilise one country's austerity-battered economy using the financial markets, seems frighteningly plausible, but the daredevil stunts and skirmishes are anything but.

Big set pieces are orchestrated at a lick, including a climactic race through the traffic-clogged streets of Manhattan replete with the hoariest of narrative chestnuts - a bomb ticking down to doomsday.

GRUDGE MATCH
certificate 12A, 1h53m

SYLVESTER Stallone and Robert De Niro trade blows in and out of the boxing ring in Peter Segal's sports comedy drama.

In their heyday, Henry "Razor" Sharp (Stallone) and Billy "The Kid" McDonnen (De Niro) were fierce rivals.

In their first two bouts, each man recorded a decisive victory but before the eagerly anticipated rematch in 1983, Razor announced his retirement without any explanation, effectively ending McDonnen's career as well.

Thirty years later, boxing promoter Dante Slate Jr (Kevin Hart) hires the two men to provide motion capture footage for a video game and in the green screen studio, Sharp and McDonnen get into a brawl.

Video footage of the skirmish goes viral and the two old-timers eventually agree to head back into the ring one final time for the grudge match that never happened.

Razor turns to his old trainer Louis "Lightning" Conlon (Alan Arkin) to get him into peak physical shape while McDonnen draws strength from rebuilding bridges with his estranged biological son, BJ (Jon Bernthal).

Spacious family home backs on to open fields

coverproperty

Location Rye Hill Road, Harlow

Category Detached with annexe/garage

Additional Five bedrooms (three en suite), pool house with heated swimming pool, landscaped front and rear gardens

Guide price £815,000

Agent Centurion Property, Equity House, 4-6 Market Street, Old Harlow. Telephone (01279) 417234

BACKING on to open fields adjacent to Longwood and Parndon Wood Nature Reserve, this spacious family home has a heated swimming pool and sits in a plot of just under 0.4 acres.

The accommodation is flexible, with three reception rooms and three double bedrooms in the main house, a further fourth bedroom and separate play room downstairs and a fifth bedroom/annexe above the garage bloc. Three bedrooms have their own en-suite shower rooms.

The entrance hall has solid double oak front doors with alarm controls. There is a door leading off to the lounge which has an original red brick feature wall with beams and an open fireplace with log burner.

A second lounge has a feature fireplace with gas fire and stairs to the first floor. There are glazed French doors opening to the rear garden and solid double oak doors to the dining room as well as single doors leading to the pool house and fourth bedroom.

The dining room has glazed French doors to the rear garden and solid double oak doors to the lobby where there is access to the shower room and kitchen.

In the kitchen there is a recess for a range cooker, an extensive range of wall and base units, integrated washing machine, tumble dryer and dishwasher as well as a central breakfast bar.

The playroom has French doors to the rear garden and in the annexe/ex-garage are stairs to the fifth bedroom.

On the first floor of the main house there are doors off to three bedrooms and the family bathroom. Bedroom one has double wardrobes in a dressing area and an en-suite shower room.

The large pool house has been extensively renovated by the present owners with limestone wall tiles, none slip rubber granule flooring and French doors opening on to the patio area. The garden is enclosed by fencing with a wall to the front with electric gates.

The driveway has space to park 10 cars and the gardens to the front and rear have been landscaped. The rear garden is extremely private and faces south.

Leading from the patio there is also another room/office.

Scrap Cars

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:

B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website. Payment per vehicle negotiable.

Essex County Council

(Various Roads, Harlow) (Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2014

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council intends, not less than seven days from the date of this notice, to make the above Order under section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close the various lengths of roads in the District of Harlow as specified:

Road	Description	Alternative Route
Roydon Road/ Harlow Road, Harlow/Roydon	From its junction with Parkway, north and then west for a distance of 4800 metres.	Parkway Road, Elizabeth Way A1169, Third Avenue A1169, Katherines Way A1169, B1133 Water Lane, B181 Epping Road and vice versa
A1169 Katherine's Way, Harlow	From its junction with A1169 Southern Way for a distance of 3200 metres in a northerly direction.	A1025 Third Avenue, A1025 Second Ave, A414 London Road, A1169 Southern Way and vice versa
B1133 Water Lane, Harlow	From its junction with Southern Way for a distance of 800 metres in a westerly direction.	A1169 Katherines Way, A1169, Third Avenue A1169, Elizabeth Way A1169, Roydon Road, Harlow Road, B181 Epping Road and vice versa
A1169 Southern Way, Harlow	i) From its junction with Partridge Road for a distance of 1000 metres in a westerly direction. ii) From its junction with Abercrombie Way for a distance of 3200 metres in a westerly direction.	A1169 Southern Way, A1169 Katherines Way, A1025 Third Avenue, A1025 Second Ave, A414 London Road, A1169 Southern Way and vice versa
A1169 Elizabeth Way, Harlow	From its junction with Roydon Road for a distance of 6400 metres in an easterly direction.	A1169 Southern Way, A1169 Katherines Way, A1025 Third Avenue, A1025 Second Ave, A414 London Road, A1169 Southern Way and vice versa

The closures are scheduled to commence within an 18 month timeframe starting from the 3 February 2014^{or} where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting, and are required for the safety of the public and workforce while highway maintenance works are undertaken. Exact dates of the road closures will be notified via advanced warning signage on sites. Letters to residents and other affected or interested parties advising of the works/dates and other relevant information will also be sent out at least 2 weeks in advance. Access for emergency service vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The Order will come into effect on 3 February 2014 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

(Rye Hill Road, Harlow & North Weald Bassett) (Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2014

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council has made the above Order under section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close that length of Rye Hill Road, Harlow and North Weald Bassett from a point 800 metres south of its junction with Paringdon Road to a point 800 metres west of its junction with B3193 London Road, a distance of 3200 metres.

The closure is scheduled to commence on 27 January 2014 for 6 weeks, or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting.

The closure is required for the safety of the public and workforce to enable a water main to be renewed.

The alternative route will be via Paringdon Road, Southern Way, A414, London Road and vice versa.

Access for emergency service vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The Order will come into effect on 27 January and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

(Epping Forest District) (Permitted Parking Area and Special Parking Area) (Amendment No.37) Order 2014

Notice is hereby given that Essex County Council has made the above Order under Sections 1(1), 2(1) to (3), 3(2), 4(1), 4(2), 32, 35, 45, 46, 49 and 53 and Parts III and IV of Schedule 9 of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order:

1. To introduce 'No Waiting At Any Time' restrictions on Epping Road, High Street and Temple Mead, Roydon in the District of Epping Forest. (Add to Schedule 1 of the 2008 Order): as follows:

Road	Description
Epping Road, Roydon	NORTH SIDE: From a point 2.6 metres east of the western boundary wall of No.9 Epping Road to its junction with High Street, an approximate distance of 66.7 metres.
High Street, Roydon	WEST SIDE: From its junction with Epping Road to its junction with Temple Mead, a distance of approximately 119.7 metres.
Temple Mead, Roydon	SOUTH SIDE: From its junction with High Street, west for a distance of approximately 9.5 metres.

2. To introduce 'No Stopping, Mon - Fri, 8am - 9.30am and 2.30pm - 4.30pm on school entrance markings' restrictions on Epping Road, Roydon in the District of Epping Forest. (Add to Schedule 55 of the 2008 Order), as follows:

Road	Description
Epping Road, Roydon	NORTH WEST SIDE: From a point level with the common boundary wall of Shaftsbury Villas No.1 and No.2 Epping Road to a point 2.6 metres east of the western boundary wall of No.9 Epping Road, for a distance of approximately 51.12 metres.

This Order will be incorporated into The Essex County Council (Epping Forest District) (Permitted Parking Area and Special Parking Area) (Consolidation) Order 2008 referred to above as the '2008 Order'.

Date of operation: The Order will come into operation on 31 March 2014.

Further details: A copy of the Order and plans may be examined during normal office hours at County Hall, Chelmsford CM1 1LX.

Application to the high court: Anyone who wishes to question the validity of the Order of any provision contained in it on the grounds that it is not within the powers conferred by the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 or on the grounds that any requirement of the Act, or any instrument made under it, has not been complied with in relation to the Order, may within six weeks from the date of the making of the Order apply to the High Court for this purpose.

Liz Burr, Head of Network Management, County Hall, Chelmsford. Dated: 23 January 2014

Jephcott grabs junior record

HARLOW Running Club members began their marathon preparations by competing in the Folksworth 15-mile race.

The hilly two lap course near Peterborough proved very productive for HRC members with two club records and a personal best time for the distance.

Daniel Jephcott, just turned 18, was making his debut at the distance. He finished in 211th place out of 450 finishers and was first junior in an excellent 2 hours 3 minutes and 42 seconds to break the HRC U-20 record.

Janice Page, also in her distance debut, finished in 250th place in a superb 2:08.14 to improve the HRC female veteran 50 record which has stood since 1999.

Graham Saville was 227th in a PB time of 2:05.49.

First HRC member to finish was Jamie Jephcott in 59th place in 1:44.05.

He was followed home by Colin Moody, 110th and third veteran 60 in 1:50.32, and John Tennant, 138th in 1:53.49.

Distance debutants David Page (309th, 2:15.54), Terry Pike (346th, 2:22.03) and Santosh Kumar (373rd, 2:26.44) also did well.

At the Benfleet 15-mile multi-terrain race, Holly Nairn finished in 427th place out of 560 finishers in 2:43.

At the Fred Hughes 10 mile race in St Albans, Rick Ricketts ran his first race after a long term injury. He was 129th out of 662 finishers in 71.14 and was followed by Sean Flynn (193rd in 75.11).

Andy Kinney was 2,523rd out of 2,878 runners at the Rock'n'Roll Marathon at Phoenix in Arizona, USA (5:38.04).

At the Gunpowder Park run 5K at Waltham Abbey, Paul Schroder was 35th out of 102 finishers in 24.36. He was followed by Debbie Barry (45th in 26.08) and Wendy Spring (67th in 29.12).

At the Chelmsford Park run 5K, Justin Patten finished in 96th place out of 409 finishers in 23.36, followed by Martin McColgan (111th in 24.0).

At the Oak Hill Park run 5K in Barnet, Richard Solomons was 14th out of 84 finishers and first veteran 60 in 22.20.

NWGC appoints new captain

PHIL Burke, from Harlow, has been appointed 2014 captain at North Weald Golf Club.

After playing at the club since the day it opened in 1996, Burke (60) said he was thrilled to take on the challenging and rewarding role at his local golf club.

Taking the reins from 2013 captain Steve Granger, Burke said he hopes to attract new members to the club alongside raising money throughout the year for his dedicated charity Children with Cancer UK.

At his drive-in to mark his first day as captain, left-handed Burke used an old-fashioned hickory shaft wooden right-handed golf club – and not surprisingly could only hit the ball 20 yards.

Burke, who plays off a handicap of 10, has lived in Harlow since 1960.

Byers at the double

CHARLOTTE Byers bagged a first-half brace as Harlow registered a 4-2 home win over Romford in the premier division of the Essex Women's Hockey League.

Byers netted twice on Saturday before Romford halved the deficit.

After the break, an Anna Ferdinando pass teed up Sandra Turner to score.

The visitors then exploited a home error to score.

Emma Tweddle then clinched Harlow's victory when she converted a penalty flick.

'Maldon player should have been sent off'

Maldon & Tiptree 2
Harlow Tn 0
(Ryman Football League, division one north)

HAWKS assistant boss Paul West-Hook felt Maldon & Tiptree should have been reduced to 10 men after only two minutes, as his side suffered a blow to their play-off hopes when they were beaten 2-0 in Ryman League division one north, writes DAVID RIMMER.

This was after a shocking foul on Harlow Town left-back Layne Eadie by Maldon's Lewis Dark.

The ref instead booked Dark and Eadie continued after treatment and this set the tone with seven more bookings being handed out.

West-Hook said: "The ref should have set his stall out from the start. That was definitely a nasty tackle and just to get a yellow was the wrong decision. We had a few decisions which went like that.

"It set the tone. There were a couple of other instances where the [Maldon] keeper came out for the ball and he hand-balled it outside [the box] and they have not blown up for that."

He added: "The main thing was the ref did not have a very good game but he is not the reason why we lost the game."

Harlow had their moments but lacked the killer touch in front of goal and paid for defensive lapses in a match full of niggles.

The game went ahead after a pitch inspection in the morning as heavy rain during the week had put the fixture in doubt.

Maldon's win left them three points behind Harlow, prior to last night's game against Romford.

James Smith forced a smart save from home keeper Dylan Skinner in a first half of few chances, until the hosts opened the scoring on the stroke of half-time.

Harlow lost concentration at a free-kick and Brad Hunter nipped in to head over the advancing Hawks keeper James May and into the net.

He said: "We spend a lot of time working on set-pieces and defending set-pieces in particular. We did not set it up right, we did not react right to the ball into the box and James May made the wrong decision at the end of the day. It was not one that he should have come for.

"It was definitely a soft goal and we have not given away many of them."

The visitors had the edge after the break but went 2-0 behind against the run of play on 58 minutes.

An excellent move down the right saw the ball cut across for the predatory Hunter to fire a 20-yard left-foot shot past the dive of May into the corner.

On 78 minutes, a Leon Antoine header from a Darren Williams cross forced a great tip over from the Maldon keeper and from the corner Antoine headed over.

Harlow's assistant manager felt the team were under par.

He said: "They [Maldon] came out with a game plan and that was to disrupt what we do. Alex Read was a bit isolated and if you look at the team everyone was not at the top of their game today.

"We missed Danny Brown. We needed calm heads today. We reacted to stuff going on in the first half which deflected from the way we play our game."

Four Hawks players were booked: Darren Blewitt, Stan Muguo, Eadie and Joshua McLeod-Urquhart.

HARLOW TN: May, Williams, Eadie, McLeod-Urquhart, Glowacki, Blewitt, G. Smith (Hart 65), Muguo, Read, Antoine, J. Smith. Subs not used: O'Donoghue, Curley, Knowles (gk).

Harlow's shooting star Harten shines for England

ANDREW FRANCAZAK
REPORTS FROM THE WEMBLEY ARENA

andrew.franczak@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HAVING helped England to victory in their opening Tri-Series game against Jamaica on Saturday, there was bitter disappointment for Harlow netball star Joanne Harten as they lost the decisive match against New Zealand two nights later.

Harten (24), named vice-captain for the Tri-Nations Series, was in excellent form against the world ranked number two Silver Ferns.

She sank all 10 of her attempts on goal in the first quarter, creating space for quick ball so essential against such class opposition.

Thanks to her 100 per cent shooting record, the former St Mark's School student steered England to a four-goal lead at 11-7 with two minutes of the quarter remaining.

But New Zealand's class eventually shone through, and it was 13-9 by the end of the quarter, and they soon began to find their rhythm in the second.

They effectively cut the supply of ball to Harten, restricting her to just five attempts at the net, only two of which were successful.

Pic: Michael Zemanek (s)

A frustrated Harten was taken off by England coach Anna Mayes with four minutes of the third quarter left, having scored just two more goals.

New Zealand eventually raced to a 49-34 win.

The game was played with only friends and family among the crowd after the initial venue, the Copper Box in Stratford, was deemed unfit for play following damage to the court the day before.

Against Jamaica at Wembley Arena on Saturday night, watching court side, this reporter found Harten's display of silky shooting and passing skills incredibly impressive, with the crowd enthusiastically cheering her every shot.

But Harten, who scored 22 goals out of her 33 attempts for a 67 per cent success rate, was extremely critical of her performance.

"We won at a canter and weren't expecting that against Jamaica," she told the Star moments after the 46-38 win.

"It's nice to come through with a win but there's lots to improve on.

"I'm a goal shooter and that performance tonight just wasn't good enough for an international standard shooter. I was lucky our defence was working overtime to win the ball back to be honest.

"Unfortunately I didn't finish it off well enough in the circle.

"Improvement is definitely needed on my part but the team played really well, especially the defence."

Harten had played the previous day as England took on England A in a warm-up game for the Tri-Series, earning a hard fought 58-36 victory in what was her first appearance since injuring an ankle four months ago.

Harten said it was always special to play at Wembley. "It's an iconic venue. The football's across the road and we're trying to make it our home here as well in terms of netball.

"Every time we play here we feel at home – the crowd's great and we love playing here."

Harten played a pivotal role in England's solid attacking play as Jamaica never really threatened in the final quarter and the hosts ran out narrow victors.

Harten has her sights firmly set on gold at the Commonwealth Games in Glasgow.

The England squad had just returned from a four day stay in Glasgow as part of a familiarisation camp ahead of this summer's Games.

Harten said: "We're going to face Jamaica at some stage during the Commonwealth Games, so every time we face them we play like it's a final, putting in performances that we're happy with, not just in terms of the result but how we play with each other.

"The camp in Glasgow was just trying to get a feel for the place and the venue. It was great. It's nice that we've got a home Commonwealth Games."

Tye Green move into last eight of national contest

TYE Green Indoor Bowls Club will face a tough Egham Trophy quarter-final against a Swale team boasting several England internationals.

This was the reward after the Harlow club conquered Tilbury in the last 16 of the national competition.

The quarter-final will take place on February 16.

Tye Green know they will be the underdogs for this tie but know they have nothing to lose!

In the Egham Trophy, each side is made up of 16 players, eight men and eight women and played concurrently at home and away.

Early on the game against Tilbury was tight.

At the away venue, the rinks skipped by Tye Green's England international Steve Mitchinson, pictured top, and Richard Haley, both fell behind and found themselves a number of shots adrift.

The home rinks were winning on one and losing on another.

The rink skipped by Barry O'Connor was winning by such a margin that it nearly covered the deficit of the other rinks.

By the halfway stage of the match O'Connor rink had extended their lead, while Mitchinson's rink and John Anderson's rink became close.

However, Haley's rink had fallen further behind.

At this stage Tye Green were a few shots in front.

As the match drew to a close the rink skipped by O'Connor continued to score well and posted a big win.

The rink skipped by Mitchinson had also finished very strongly and returned a winning score of 27-16.

Anderson and his rink finished very close.

This left Haley's rink as the last to finish but with a comfortable lead to defend.

Despite losing their rink the fact that they restricted their opponents' scoring helped Tye Green run out overall winners by 83 shots to 70.

Results: B. Perrett, J. Peacock, J. Oakes & R. Haley lost 24-11; L. Moles, S. Bloomfield, M. Ball & S. Mitchinson won 27-16; H. O'Connell, S. Duck, E. Rogers & B. O'Connor won 28-12; G. Mitchinson, T. Shaw, E. Smith & J. Anderson lost 17-18.

The final stages of this competition take place on March 30 at Egham IBC in Surrey.

HARLOW & DISTRICT PREMIER DARTS LEAGUE RESULTS (January 17): Colt Hatch 1, Servo Link 7 (Eli Leftwich, Dicky Foster 180); Moot House 3, Paringdon Lyons 5; Paringdon Social Club 3 (Sarah Byrne 104 outshot), Moot House Raiders 5 (Brian Baker 180); White Admiral 7 (Dave Galloway 180), Tye Green Foxes 1; Tye Green Whites 0, Harlow Town Cricket Club 8; Staple Tye Colts 5, Sawbridgeworth Brewery 3.

HARLOW Greyhound Stadium selections for Friday: 7.30 Tracys Rocket; 7.47 Mild Steel; 8.04 Ballyer Bell; 8.21 Dods Pearl; 8.38 Sold The World; 8.54 Daphs Charm (NB); 9.10 Ballyer Flower; 9.26 Rathkewell Ruby; 9.42 Black Skittle; 9.58 Kerries Choice; 10.15 Drumragh Pudsey (NAP).

Hawks' responsibility to run a football academy

BY ALAN SCOTT

alan.scott@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HAWKS chief executive Tom Cunningham has called on all soccer clubs – Football League and non-League – to provide academy teams in a bid to not only find new young stars but to encourage young people to ditch the PlayStations and adopt a healthier lifestyle.

Cunningham, who enjoyed a professional career with Leyton Orient, Wimbledon and Queens Park Rangers, believes it is the 'responsibility' of all clubs to run academy teams.

The 58-year-old has transformed the fortunes of Harlow Town since he was at the heart of a takeover of the Ryman League division one north club, which was in huge financial trouble back in February 2010.

The launch of an academy team was a key part of that, while another central plan was the construction of a £350,000+ all-weather 4G pitch which was a 'he who dares wins' move which looks like paying off for the Essex club.

Harlow held trials last month to recruit 5- to 18-year-olds for its next intake of academy players.

It is now in the process of whittling down the numbers who will be offered places and a chance to become the next generation of stars at The Harlow Arena.

Cunningham explained his vision. He said: "Every football club should have an academy. It is the responsibility of a football club to give youngsters of all ages the opportunity to enjoy football. By this I mean the benefits football provides in terms of health, socialising, interaction, learning, interest and focus."

Cunningham, who

CRUCIAL ROLE: Hawks chief executive Tom Cunningham says football clubs must run academies for youngsters played much of his career as a central defender in what is now the Championship, League One and League Two, started off at Chelsea before joining Rangers. He played 30 games for the Hoops, before joining Wimbledon where he made 99 appearances from 1979.

In 1981 he switched to Brisbane Road for arguably the most enjoyable spell of his career. To this day he is thought of fondly by the Orient faithful, where he played 165 games from 1981-87, quitting just two years before Frank Clark led the second oldest London club to promotion from the old Division Four via the play-off final.

But Cunningham's time is now mostly spent in CM19, where his dream is to take Harlow up to the Conference.

He sees the academy and the launch of more youth football teams as a massively important ingredient in achieving this goal.

He said: "I was brought up around football and in many respects it has shaped my life and personality. I want Harlow Town Football Club to encourage youngsters to be involved in football, support their local club, play for their local club and hopefully have a career in football in some capacity if they want to."

"As a club and a community, it is important to recognise the influence football has and to use it positively to develop interest and nurture talent. We have invested heavily in a fantastic pitch and qualified people to enable this to happen. This is a big step forward for the club and the community. It is my aim to establish a highly respected academy for Harlow."

Cunningham's plan is to have academy levels from age five right through to 18.

The ages 5-15 will be via teams playing regular football and receiving coaching.

The boys aged 16-18 will be coached but also be educated over a two-year course.

At the end, recruits will gain a recognised certificate and have broad work experience.

It will link sports education, not only football, but players will learn about first aid, physiotherapy and nutrition – putting them on the path to what they hope will be a successful football career.

The further education curriculum will also ensure students are prepared for the workplace and careers.

It will also provide an opportunity on the football front to play for Harlow at first team level.

Next season will be key and the club hope to launch its fully fledged academy.

From this point the club hope the academy will grow and expand so that it is running year after year on an ongoing basis.

"We would like to see youngsters start at five and go on to play for the club at first team level in the future. The 16-18 age will educate approximately 20-30 students per year for two years (with 40-50 students at the club at the same time) on a full-time basis for two years," said a club spokesman.

Rockets are ready to blast off for new season

RYE House Rockets will head to the East of England Showground in Peterborough on Tuesday March 18 for their opening speedway meeting of the 2014 season.

This will be the Panthers' first meeting in their new era as a Premier League club, as they battle the Alwalton club in the first leg of the East of England Cup.

The return leg at Hoddesdon on Saturday March 29 (7pm start) will be the opening home meeting of the year for Rockets.

Rye House promoter Len Silver is looking forward to the team's first head-to-head encounters since 2003.

"With the Peterborough [East of England] Showground only just over an hour away via the M11, I can see some terrific rivalry building between our two clubs, and I am very excited about having the Panthers in our division."

The full fixture list for the 2014 campaign is due to be confirmed, but the Bank Holiday weekend home dates at Rye House look set to fill Sunday slots, rather than the Monday dates of the past, so Sundays April 20, May 4, May 25 and August 24 are pencilled in for 2pm starts.

The National League Riders' Championship looks set to be staged on Sunday September 28, to facilitate better travelling times for visiting supporters than the Saturday night slot previously operated.

Rye House will also play host once again to a round of the British Youth Championship.

On the road, no less than three northern tours are planned, taking in successive nights at Redcar/Edinburgh, Berwick/Newcastle and Workington/Glasgow, respectively.

Despite the continuous upward pressures on costs that virtually all speedway organisations face, admission prices will once again remain unchanged for the new season.

Entry to Rye House home meetings will be: adults £16, seniors £14, children (12-16) £5, with children under 12 admitted free.

The price for the match programme remains unchanged at £2.

Meanwhile, the possibility of resurrecting the Rye House Raiders has been shelved.

Silver admitted: "The reason I had decided to try to reintroduce a Rye House team into the National League, which I did in November, was down to my personal wish to ensure that the National League had enough teams in it for it to be a worthwhile league to be a part of."

"When, at the December meeting of National League promoters, Plymouth made an entry, the need for a Rye House team receded, and with no sponsor also coming forward, the decision not to go ahead was easy to make."

Hawks' must-win title clash looms

THE Hawks face a must-win clash when they host Witham Town at home in Ryman League division one north this Saturday. Harlow Town slipped to fifth on Tuesday.

This was after wins for Witham and Heybridge, while leaders VCD and second-placed Soham dropped points.

Witham are two points ahead of the Hawks, who have played four games more than their Essex rivals.

The Hawks were due to play at Romford last night (Wednesday).

Assistant manager Paul West-Hook said: "Every game is important for us as we want to win the title. It is very important we get three points.

"We break the season down into segments of around five games each and this is the first one of a new segment and we would like a good start to the new one."

Hawks boss Danny Chapman is awaiting the results of a scan on a ligament injury to key midfielder Danny Brown.

This has been delayed by a week but a specialist believes it is a lateral ligament injury, which will rule him out for two months.

However, Chapman has ruled out a move for another midfielder now. "We are never going to replace Danny Brown. We have plenty of strength in depth in that position, so it's not an area that we are too concerned about.

"He will be out for at least six weeks though," said the Harlow boss.

Harlow lost their composure at Maldon and Tiptree on Saturday but West-Hook is confident they can bounce back.

"We got involved in things we should not have been involved in at Maldon," he said. "We have got to stay on our game and do what we have done so far to get us on in this position. It is different for us this season. We are there to be shot at and we have to be prepared for it."

Keeper Danny Knowles played for Harlow earlier in the season and has now recovered from injury and will provide cover for James May, as he did at Maldon & Tiptree.

But Harlow are still looking to sign another keeper.

West Hook said: "Danny [Knowles] has been here for a while coaching James. We are looking for another keeper to complement the side."

Junior Dadson is doubtful for the Witham clash because of a hamstring injury. "We will try to get him back but it may be a case of the following Saturday," said West-Hook.

Sherwood thought Bentaleb was from Harlow

NEW Spurs boss Tim Sherwood was not too surprised rising star Nabil Bentaleb could play for England in the future - he thought the player was from Harlow!

The 19-year-old French-born midfielder, who has been a revelation since being given his debut by Sherwood in the 3-2 win at Southampton a month ago, has been tipped to play for England as he qualifies in 2017 because he will have lived in the country for five years and would be eligible.

France are sniffing around the youngster and Sherwood told the national press: "I called him on it because I had thought he was from Harlow or somewhere!"

"It's only in the last few weeks that I've heard him speak French for the first time."

Sherwood believes Bentaleb could be the subject of a potential wrangle between England and France over his international eligibility, while Algeria are expected to try to call up the young midfielder later this month.

Bentaleb, who has starred for Sherwood's Tottenham development team this season, played for the first team most recently in the 3-1 victory over Swansea City on Sunday.

Having previously slipped under the radar after being released by Lille and Mouscron before failing to agree terms with Birmingham City following a trial, the young midfielder signed for Tottenham in January 2012.

Bentaleb's impressive form alerted the English FA.

Bentaleb was born in Lille to Algerian parents and represented France U-19s in November 2012.

"If he carries on the way he is at the moment he'll be knocking at the door for the French squad at the World Cup," said Sherwood. "He's got to make a decision and I'm not sure how much love the French are showing him now.

"He's been in the wilderness but now he's not and everyone is starting to know about him. He's performing regularly and if the English are serious about it, it probably could be an arm-wrestle between them and the French. To scout him they'd have had to come to watch our under-21s. I maintain that players are out there, whether they're French, English, Scottish, whatever; people just have to look harder and they have to trust them."

He might not be from Harlow after all, but he is certainly a star in the making.
